The School Meeting.

About fifty citizens of Bloomfield met in the School house on Monday evening last, in accordance with the call of the trustees for a meeting to consider and vote upon the annual appropriation of funds for educational purposes.

The meeting was claled to order about 8 o'clock, Mr. J. F. Sanxay being appointed Chairman.

The Chairman stated the object of the meeting and the call was read by the Secretary.

A report in printed form was presented by the Treasurer of the Board of Trustees, giving an account of the financial affairs of the district. The liabilities of the district amounted to $26,383.94, of which $20,300 were in mortgages on the various school properties, leaving a floating indebtedness of about $6,000. The available assets of the district were stated to be $52,389. A table stated the amount voted last year for School Purposes, to be $4,500; for School House Purposes, $5,700. The call for the present meeting recommended $5,500 for School, and $10,500 for School House Purposes.

Mr. Thomas asked of the trustees why they called for so much more money than last year.

Mr. Page in reply said the money was needed for a sinking fund, and to pay off the outstanding debts of the district. He explained the difficulties the trustees labored under from this source, by which they were obliged to raise money on their own responsibility in order to carry on the schools.

Mr. Turner advocated the appropriations called for, and hoped they would be granted. Upon the suggestion of the chairman, that the two appropriations be considered separately. Mr. Turner moved "that the sum of $5,500 be raised in this district for support of schools."

Upon this motion being seconded, an animated discussion took place. Mr. Thomas opposed the raising of any more money than last year. He thought it was the general opinion that our taxes were too high, and that they should be reduced rather than increased. There were people who could not pay their taxes, and if we went on increasing them, it would amount to confiscation of property. Other towns had been obliged to shut up their schools, because money could not be raised to carry them on. Mr. Turner was surprised that there should be any talk of shutting up schools in Bloomfield, and endeavored to show the folly of such action. Instead of economy, it would be the reverse. To close the schools would be to promote idleness and vice, among the young. Instead of economy it would be a spend-thrift policy.

Mr. Thomas was not opposed to schools, but he could not see how voting the money at the meeting would raise it. The people could not pay their taxes; some, he knew, had not been able to pay for two years.

Mr. Peloubet made an earnest appeal on behalf of the trustees, in which he spoke of the time they were obliged to spend unnecessarily, in waiting upon the Town Committee, and the Collector, and the annoyance they were subjected to in many ways. "How are we to get along without the money?"

Mr. Beach, chairman of the Town Committee, said the Collector had this year paid the School money in full, but the town owed the Gas Company $4,000, whereas the gas law distinctly provided that the money raised by lamp-tax should be used for that purpose only.

Mr. J. K. Oakes, Assessor, spoke of the general complaint of small property owners, who say they cannot pay their taxes and live.

Mr. Beach asked if the schools could be maintained on the same appropriation as last year.

Mr. Page explained that there was a necessity for an increase, both in the number of teachers, and, in one or two instances, of salaries, making it absolutely necessary to have $1,000 more for school purposes. A new class was about forming in the High School, and it must have a teacher. The Berkeley school had increased in numbers so as to make it necessary to have an additional teacher there.

Mr. Beach was willing to be taxed for a good public school, but did not favor a collegiate course. He cited the County Superintendent as having opposed, at a recent meeting in Orange, the plan of supporting high school by public taxation.

Mr. Peckham stated his experience in the Newark High School. The higher branches were largely for the benefit of the children of the poor, and he thought they ought to have the chance.

Mr. D. Oakes wanted to know the amount of salaries paid to teachers last year, and the proposed increase this year.

Mr. Peloubet said the aggregate increase would be about $600.

Mr. Beach was not in favor of scant salaries for teachers, but the point was to get the money.

Mr. Thomas moved to amend the resolution of Mr. Turner, so as to make the appropriation the same as last year.

The motion was not seconded, and the vote upon the appropriation for $5,500 was taken, affirmative, 21, negative, 2.

The discussion then turned upon the appropriation for School House purposes. Mr. Peloubet stated that the amount called for was to be apportioned as follows: For sinking fund, $2,500; for interest on mortgages, $2,400; for insurance, $600; for Jantior's wages $550; for supplies, coal, etc., $1,000; for floating debt, $4,450.

An inquiry being made if the money now had on bond and mortgage could remain, it was answered in the affirmative.

Mr. Turner then moved to make the appropriation for school house purposes $7,500. This motion was carried, 15 to 1, after which the meeting adjourned.

Proceedings of the Town Committee.

The Township Committee met on Friday afternoon. Present—Messrs. Reford, Beach, Potter, Sherman, Richards and Oakes.

Orders were drawn for settlement of the following bills:

J. W. Lees, $21,73 for supplies furnished on account of poor.

Board of Health Dept. of Newark, $79.00 for board and treatment for a small-pox patient sent from Bloomfield to the hospital in Newark.

The Road Committee reported favorably upon the working of a new road-scraper and roller which had been used on trial.

A discussion was had upon the question of renewing the gas contract which terminates Oct. 1st. A member stated that complaints were made of irregularity in lighting and extinguishing the lamps, by which the town was deprived of the full benefit of light paid for. An opinion was given by another member that the town could be lighted with oil at less expense and with a better light than is obtained under the present system.

A motion was adopted that the Gas Committee make investigation as to lighting streets in other towns, and present a report.

A petition was presented from a meeting of citizens asking if an appropriation could be made from the Contingent Fund to be used in connection with money raised by subscription among citizens for the purpose of organizing and [illegible] of a police force in the village. But little encouragement was given as to making an appropriation for this purpose. It was thought that owing to the prevalent dissatisfaction of taxpayers and the difficulty of collecting taxes, efforts ought to be made to reduce rather than increase the taxes.

The State Laws.

Doubtless to many of our readers, that afforded by the publication of the State Laws is dry reading, and yet there is often much valuable information to be gained by their perusal. We would call the attention of our real estate owners to Chapter 516, published last week, which contemplates the purchase, by bids, of sites upon which to erect institutions for "the education of the deaf, dumb and blind, and the feeble minded in this state." The sites called for are respectively for twenty acres, five acres, and fifty acres. The cost of the buildings to be erected is restricted as follows; that for the deaf and dumb, $150,000; that for the blind, $100,000; that for the feeble-minded, $80,000.

For the benefit of those who may wish to preserve for reference the important point of the game law, published this week, the following abridgement is given:

Under a penalty of $15 for each bird, it is not lawful to kill quail from January 1st to November 1st; pheasants from December 15th to October 1st, penalty $15 each bird; woodcock from January 1st to July 4th, penalty $10; gray snipe from May 1st to October 1st, penalty $10; rail and reed birds from December 1st to September 1st, penalty $5; upland plover from January 1st to August 1st, penalty $10; prairie chickens not to kill until 1880, penalty $50; deer from December 1st to October 15, penalty $50; gray squirrel from January 1st to July 1st, penalty $5; fox and black squirrel, same period and fine; rabbit from January 1st to November 1st, penalty $5; salmon trout from October 1st to March 1st, penalty $10 each; brook trout, same; black bass from March 1st to May 1st, $25 each offense; pike or pickerel the same.

During the severe thunder shower on Saturday, the house of Levi Harrison, in Trumbull, Conn., was struck by lightning, and Mr. Harrison, aged 27, his wife, and daughter, aged 2 years, were all killed. They were sitting on a feather bed at the time. The neighbors, seeing smoke issue from the house, repaired immediately thither, and found the whole family dead and the bed in flames. The fire was speedily extinguished. Mr. Harrison was badly burned about the face and head. Another house in the same town was struck and considerably shattered. The latter had al iglutning rod on each of the two chimneys.

Boston Corbett, who shot Wilkes Booth, is living in Camden, N. J., and on week days follows the profession of batter in Philadelphia. He preaches every Sunday in the Independent Methodist Church in Camden, where he is very popular.

Some workmen on the streets at Providence, Wednesday, excavated an old General Harrison medal, so common in the 'Tippecanoe and Tyler too' times, but now quite a curiosity.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. E. S. Stackpole, of our Bloomfield High School, was present last week at the Commencement of Bowdoin College, of which he is a graduate, taking part in the exercises as Valedictorian in Latin.

At a regular meeting of Olive Branch Lodge No. 51. I. O. O. F. held July 1st, the following officers were duly elected: N. G., A. C. Marr, V. G., Joseph Eveland, Sec'y, John Lockwood, Perm't Sec'y, E. Westlake, Treas., N. H. Dodd.

A large house on upper Broad street, owned by J. C. Pitt, was struck by lightning during the storm of Friday evening last. The fluid entered at the roof and descended to the cellar, tearing off the plastering in its way, but did no damage to the inmates.

The Directors of the Bloomfield Library Association have rescinded the call made in September last for 20 per cent., being the third installment of the capital stock of the association, and instead, have called for a third installment of ten per cent. due and payable July 1st, 1874.

We understand the Trustees of the Montclair Railway have made arrangements to resume travel on that road on Monday next, running three trains each way daily, which they hope will not be again interrupted. They will also run a freight train each way daily, but not receive freight to or from New York until further notice. Time table in another column.

Bloomfield Library Association.

The Directors of the Library Association met on Monday evening and transacted a considerable amount of business.

The Committee on Buildings, who were instructed two weeks ago, to submit additional plans for a building, presented a plan containing several new and valuable features. The building on this plan would cost considerably more than the amount named as the cost of the building on any previously proposed plan, but it is so devised as to admit of being built in sections, so not necessitating the expenditure of the whole amount at once, it not advisable. The Committee's report also contained a resolution, for the consideration of the Board, looking toward immediate action in building. After some consideration, definite action, on the plan and report, was deferred until next Monday evening, the 20th inst., to give further time for consideration, and to secure if possible, the attendance of every [illegible] mittee were instructed to report at next meeting whether, in their judgment, sufficient means could be raised from subscriptions to the capital stock or other sources to justify an expenditure this season of twenty thousand dollars, in erecting section one of the building proposed.

The Committee on Revision of the By-Laws rendered their report, submitting a set of by-laws for the government of the Board and Association. The different articles and sections were considered and acted upon seriatim, and after some slight amendments adopted as a whole. The Secretary was authorized to have printed 200 copies of the By-Laws.

Some conversation took place as to the necessity of full meetings of the Board and it was the opinion of those present, that Directors who have not attended any of the meetings since their election, ought either to henceforth give their attention to the matter, and work with the Board, or resign, that their places may be filled with men ready to devote time to the work, as a full Board is very desirable.

It was decided to invite the architect who drew the plans submitted to the Committee, to meet with the Board next Monday evening, and give such information regarding his plan as may be desired.

As the question of adopting the report will there be decided, it is hoped and expected that the next meeting will be a full one, every Director present.

The colored citizens of New Brunswick have petitioned the Common Council for representation on the police force.

There was a great flood Saturday night and Sunday in western Massachusetts, caused by the rapid rise of the Westfield river. Two reservoirs, each covering a hundred acres, gave way, and devastated a village called Blush Hollow, but fortunately without the tragic consequences of Mill River.

During the terrific thunder storm of last Friday evening a bolt struck one of the tanks of the Erie Oil Works at Weehawken. The oil was at once ignited and the flames shot up into the air to a great height, and spread from one tank to another. Fire engines came from Hoboken and Jersey City. Some of these bent their energies to save the neighboring cottages, while others threw streams upon the burning oil, but with no effect. The fire raged with unabated fury through the night, and the Palisades on the west and north were brought out in bold relief against the inky sky, and long lines of spectators were distinctly visible from the river front, so bright was the light. The cathedral-like blaze which broke up in immense rolls of alternate smoke and flame, cast a lurid glare over the river and bay, proving a source of gratification to thousands of sightseers, who preferred to see the marvels of the night at long range, without enhancing their pleasure by the additional chance of being stampeded in a crowd falling back from an exploding tank. The flames at no time went outside of the works, and when the last tank burst and sent its contents into the air and over the ground the worst was over. The total loss is estimated at $750,000. Sixteen tanks containing from 5,000 to 20,000 barrels each of oil, and estimated to have contained 75,000 barrels in all were consumed.

AUGUST FLOWER.—The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effect; such as sour stomach, sick headache, habitual costiveness, impure blood, heartburn, water-brash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the stomach, yellow skin, coated tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of the food after eating, low spirits &c. CRYSTAL SPRING ICE

WESLEY B. CORBY, Proprietor.

The Crystal Spring that gently flows
Through flowery banks of evergreen,
Like life it tells us to pursue
A course like this.—so pure, serene.

SUMMER IDYLS.

The poet may write of the wine's rosy cup,
And of its bright virtues may sing,
But sweeter and cooler is the goblet when filled
With Ice from the Crystal Spring.

Belshazzar of old, at his great royal feast,
When his palace with revel did ring,
Would happier have been, had his goblets been filled
With Ice from the Crystal Spring.

The winter is past and the bright sunny skies
Soon the roses and violets will bring,
And then in our homes the goblet we'll fill
With Ice from the Crystal Spring.

Success to the cup that always does cheer,
And sweet peace and contentment does bring,
For of Earth's joyous gifts there is nothing so pure
As Ice from the Crystal Spring.

The above CRYSTAL ICE which gave such solid satisfaction to my patrons, will be furnished by me as usual. Orders left at my office, in J. W. Lees' store, Cor. of
